Low Prices Are a Strong Magnet

The Grocerette sells quality groceries, and now during a special spurge of low prices elsewhere our customers are telling us that our prices are as low and in some cases even lower than at the other places.

That statement alone should convince you that here at 19 South First avenue is the store for you to trade with, day in and day out, for best quality goods at the lowest reasonable prices.

No phones, no clerks, no credit, no delivery, and low rent makes it possible for us to undersell the old fashioned stores with antiquated policies.

Come and see us; see our stock and prices, and you'll surely come again, often.

There were three witnesses for the defense, one of them an attendant at the hospital for the insane at the time of the alleged assault, another, housekeeper for Dr. Norman at that time, and the third a nurse of Dr. Norman's wife. The first two witnesses testified that they saw Mrs. Murphy, the mother of the hospital the morning following the alleged assault, at the usual time she made her rounds. The citizens of Phoenix will only have two opportunities to hear the talks of these fine speakers. They will both speak at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday noon and in two of the churches Sunday morning.

They will leave Sunday evening for Los Angeles, where they will continue their good work. They are here at their own expense and will receive no remuneration for their services from Phoenix. No pledges or collections will be taken for any cause at any of these meetings. Dr. Gulick will be at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

DISTRICT LEADERS FOR THRIFT WORK ARE NOW SELECTED
There are thousands of persons in Phoenix who are not now associated with any war savings society. Therefore, it is planned to bind these people together in one general organization to be known as the "Phoenix War Savings Society at Large."

No one is to be omitted in organizing this society. The assistance of every person is urgently needed and asked. The object of this society is, of course, to assist in winning the war. Work and save are the watchwords, and it will be the particular province of this new organization to promote organized saving and investing in thrift stamps, not a spasmodic saving and investing, but a methodical and regular, day-by-day and week-by-week saving and investing.

For the purposes of this society, the city of Phoenix is to be divided into twelve districts, each district in charge of a chairman.

Following are the twelve districts, their boundaries and the chairmen selected:

District 1—Charles E. Arnold, chairman. North building boundaries, North Washington street, west of Fifth street.

District 2—L. L. Steward, cashier. Citizens State bank, North of Washington street, between Seventh and Fifteenth avenues.

District 3—Harry A. Diehl, Diehl Shoe company. From Washington to McKinley, between Seventh and Central avenues.

District 4—Carl H. Anderson, 115 4th Street. North of McKinley, between Central and Seventh avenues.

District 8—C. W. Cliney, 416 East Van Buren street, North of Washington, between Center and Seventh street.

District 9—C. D. Dorris, Dorris-Heyman Furniture company. South of Washington, between Center and Ninth avenues.

District 10—Sam W. Proctor, corporation commission. South of Washington, west of Ninth avenue.

and Dr. Nasmyth will be at the First Methodist church.

Both of the speakers are well known authors of books, have traveled all over the world, have been connected with some department of government war work since the war began, and are acknowledged representatives of all the churches in stating the position of the church toward the war.

In a letter to Phoenix citizen, Dr. Gulick writes: "Peace can never come until justice has been provided for. Justice cannot come until the millions of citizens are educated to this idea, and whether or not America will be ready to enter into an effective world alliance as a League of Nations' when this war is over depends largely upon the education which the leaders of Christians are able to give to their constituents before the world war is over."

SALVAGE DEPOT IN NEED OF HOME

That the salvage department of the Red Cross will remain open during the summer months was the announcement made last evening. Just where the quarters will be maintained has not been determined as the building which has housed the donations of newspapers and magazines for the past winter has been leased and a new down town headquarters is in demand.

A vacant room in a down town building is the need of the Red Cross at the present time. If such a place could be secured for any length of time it would mean several hundred dollars to the association. The contribution of a room means a store house for the thousands of pounds of paper, tin and lead foil and other salvage the sales of which net large sums to the Red Cross.

MEN ARE WANTED IN THE NAVAL RESERVE
"The call for men for the naval reserve has been so far very favorably responded to, but they cannot come too fast," says A. T. Flynn of the navy recruiting station, 35 East Washington street. "The service needs ever so many men for the reserve, and now is the time for men from the age of 18 to 35 to show their loyalty to Uncle Sam."

"All branches are open and a man has excellent opportunity for advancement. The recruiting officers are always more than glad to talk the matter over with prospective recruits and will answer any questions within their powers."

A total of 16 men have left this station within the last fortnight. Among the honor roll for this week are Frank C. Bruinger, Oliver Diller, William Corstain, Vernon Ford and Homer E. Moore.
